

PHOTOGRAPHS FROM WEDDINGS

35mm film & digital / London, UK & worldwide

I'M A PHOTOGRAPHER WHO TURNS UP AT WEDDINGS.

Before becoming a photographer I was a writer.

I still look for the things that tell a story: the gestures, the relationships, the small distractions. What people do when something else is supposed to be happening.

The photographs should look like your wedding, not somebody else's idea of wedding photography.

EVERYONE BRINGS SOMETHING.

The speeches, the street outside, and everything in between.

THEN THE ROOM CHANGES.

The day does not hold still.

PAYING ATTENTION.

Most of the day, I photograph what's happening. I won't keep taking you away from it.

If you'd like portraits, we'll make a little time for them. A bit of direction can be useful; it doesn't have to become the main event.

I work with digital cameras and 35mm film. Film can be added to your coverage.
